This is an office action for serial number 10/528,087.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show the connection between the head unit (7) and the pin (21) and the column (4) the applicant should provide a cross sectional view of the connection between the pin (21) and the column (4) as described in the specification. The drawing should show how the clamp (8) extends through the column (4) to clamp the pivot element (23) for better understanding of the clamping action. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: screw holes for attaching the head unit (9) to the support object should be labeled; 3.2, 4, and 3 should be labeled in Figure 2C; 3.3 T-shaped clamp groove. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The applicant has claimed that the "sections of inner contours of the outer profiled section are matched in cross section to outer contours of inner profiled section that have different cross-sectional shapes" this statement is enabling. The examiner can not understand this limitations. The applicant has placed conflicting statements within the same limitation. How can a section of inner contour of the outer section match in cross section to the outer contour of inner sections but the inner profiles have different cross-sectional shapes. The applicant is attempting to claim more than one embodiment of the invention in the same statement. This type of claim language is incorrect.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 4-8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 and 10 state that the fastening element is one of welded and screwed to the profiled element and screw channels extend longitudinally inside a hollow space of the profiled element however this is indefinite because if the fastening element is welded then the embodiment for the screw channels is not used .

Claim 7 stated that the "profiled element is formed by the inner profiled section" which is indefinite and confusing to the examiner. The applicant is requested to explain this limitation.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "its top" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

The claims have been rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112 for the above reasons. Please note that the Examiner may not have pointed out each and every example of indefiniteness. The applicant is required to review all the claim language to make sure the claimed invention is clear and definite.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Raymond et al. (Raymond) 2,602,863. Raymond discloses a stand (figure 1), a column (26), a base (16), a profiled element (42) with an upper end (44), a head unit (32), a pivot element (28), a horizontal pivot shaft (75), a receiver element (82), a pin (58), a longitudinally extending hollow space (within 44).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-13 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art discloses conventional stands having pivoting elements.
